Dear Communications Director/Editor,

The Church in Africa reveals a picture of both suffering and hope. Many people face a daily reality of food insecurity, water shortage, unemployment, lack of medical care, and illiteracy. At the same time, Catholicism is flourishing among the people of Africa. There are many new vocations to the priesthood and the religious life, with many of these new priests and sisters coming to serve the people of the United States. The Solidarity Fund for the Church in Africa gives much needed aid to the Church in Africa while expressing the gratitude of the Church in the United States for the warm and generous assistance of the African priests and sisters in our parishes.

In 2011, driven from their homelands by violence and drought, Somalian refugees flooded into Kenya. The Dadaab Refugee Camp filled to capacity with refugees, yet more people continued to arrive. Close to 450,000 people formed settlements in the camp, which caused an incredible burden on the resources of their host community. Courageous priests, nuns, and lay people worked on the front line among these refugees, distributing food and medical supplies as well as ministering to their needs. But the trauma of facing the suffering on a daily basis threatened to destroy the health of these workers.

A grant from the Solidarity Fund for the Church in Africa provided relief for these priests, nuns, religious, and lay people to attend a period of rest. During three retreats at St. Teresa Pastoral Centre in Lodwar, the workers were able to spend time away from their parishes and to reflect on their ministry. Older members encouraged the younger ones who had never seen the challenges stemming from famine and drought. Revitalized by these retreats, they were able to return to Dadaab and continue serving the refugees.
