POVERTY AWARENESS MONTH

POVERTY AWARENESS MONTH 2024

An annual papal message for the World Day of Peace (Jan. 1) has been released every year since 1968. In the first papal message for the World Day of Peace, by Saint Paul VI, the Holy Father highlighted these “threats” to peace: selfishness in relations among nations; disrespect for the right to life and human dignity; recourse to “frightful weapons of extermination,” excessive weapons spending which hinders human development; and the belief that controversies cannot be solved by “negotiations founded on law, justice, and equity.”

Challenge: Read Pope Francis’ 2024 message on “Artificial Intelligence and Peace.” How does his message challenge you? Use the accompanying resources to reflect on Pope Francis’ important invitation to all Catholics and people of good will. As you start the new year and make your resolutions, take a moment to think of one way you can address poverty in your community, school, or parish.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 2

For more than 50 years, the Catholic Campaign for Human Development (CCHD) has been working to empower new mothers, immigrants, the elderly, and families to together address the root causes of poverty in their communities. Watch this video to learn more about the complexity of poverty in the United States. Then, visit PovertyUSA.org to discover more about poverty in your community and how we can work together to upend the cycle of poverty.

Challenge: The local organizations that CCHD supports are helping communities build resilience and stand in solidarity with their most marginalized members. Read about the work of CCHD and discover how you can join this transformative work.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 3

Solidarity invites us to remember that we are all children of God who share in one another’s joy and suffering. This is a key component of working together to seek justice for all of God’s children. Being in solidarity with others lifts us from our individualism and offers us the opportunity to work together to address poverty.

POVERTY AWARENESS MONTH 2024

Save the date now to participate in next year's Catholic Social Ministry Gathering! From January 25-28, 2025, we will gather in person to pray, learn, and advocate together on our Catholic call to help heal a world broken by conflict, division, and inequality.

Reflection: Take a moment to reflect on the words of Pope Francis, "There is a need for paths of peace to heal open wounds. There is also a need for peacemakers, men and women prepared to work boldly and creatively to initiate the processes of healing and renewed encounter" (Fratelli Tutti, no. 225). How can you join the work to think creatively and boldly to create opportunities for healing and renewed encounter? Say this prayer for solidarity and for the grace to share in the suffering of our brothers and sisters who experience poverty, and for a deeper conviction to work for justice and peace.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 4

Today is the feast of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton, the first canonized U.S. citizen. She was born in 1774 to an Episcopal family. She converted to Catholicism in 1805 after living in Italy with her husband. After her husband passed away, she was left a widow with five children at the age of 30, rejected by many family and friends because of her conversion. In 1809, Elizabeth began the first female religious order in the United States, the Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph. She opened St. Joseph's Academy, a tuition-free school, to educate children living in poverty. Her work laid the foundation for the American Catholic school system. To this day, her order continues her legacy of charity and education throughout the world.

Reflection: Women religious have played a significant role in the social ministry of the Catholic Church in the U.S. How can you follow the example of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton in courageously following God's plan in your life and the call to care for God's children? Read more about how parishes and communities are working together to address poverty and injustice.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 5

The relationship between mental health and poverty is complex. Poverty can often intensify the experience of mental illness and may also increase the likelihood of the onset of mental illness. At the same time, experiencing mental illness may also increase the chances of living below the poverty line. Adults ages 26 or older who live below the poverty line are more likely to experience a serious mental illness than those living at or above the poverty line. Additionally, nearly a quarter of those suffering from depression live in poverty.

The dignity of the human person as created in the image and likeness of God demands that we support and empower those who are poor and vulnerable, including access to adequate healthcare to promote good physical and mental health.

POVERTY AWARENESS MONTH 2024

Challenge: How can you respond to the call to care for our brothers and sisters experiencing mental illness? The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops announced a National Catholic Mental Health Campaign in October of 2023 to raise awareness on the mental health crisis, to remove the stigma of mental illness and mental health challenges, and advocate that those who struggle receive help. Learn more about the Mental Health Campaign and how you can take action.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 6

The Gospel reminds us that we are called to root our lives of faith in the authentic love of neighbor. Pope Benedict XVI reflects on this call when he writes about “the unbreakable bond between love of God and love of neighbor” (Deus Caritas Est, no. 16). He continues: “One is so closely connected to the other that to say that we love God becomes a lie if we are closed to our neighbor or hate him altogether. Saint John's words should rather be interpreted to mean that love of neighbor is a path that leads to the encounter with God, and that closing our eyes to our neighbor also blinds us to God.”

Attending to the needs of persons in poverty is a grateful response to the unmerited gift of love that God first gives to each person—a gift which we are required to then share with others. Sharing God’s love includes offering spiritual care for those in need, providing help to meet immediate needs, and working together to eliminate the causes of poverty.

Challenge: How are you called to respond to God’s gift of love and compassion? Take a look at this Poverty Map that shows the levels of poverty in the nation and your specific county. How can you live out the Gospel call to advocate for and with persons in poverty locally and globally?

SUNDAY, JANUARY 7

Poverty is not a catchphrase—it is a serious reality that many are living. Over 37 million people live below the poverty line in the United States. As poverty continues to rise across the nation and the world, Pope Francis challenges us to overcome indifference to the cry of the poor and use our gifts to take action: “Thinking of this immense multitude of the poor, the message of the Gospel is clear: let us not bury the wealth of the Lord. Let us spread charity, share our bread, multiply love,” Pope Francis said on the Seventh World Day of the Poor, “Poverty is a scandal.”

Challenge: Are you familiar with the facts about those living in poverty in the United States? Work to protect the life and dignity of the human person. Learn facts about U.S. Poverty and make two specific commitments to address poverty in your community this month.

MONDAY, JANUARY 8

Today we celebrate the feast of the Baptism of Jesus. Through our Baptism, we share in Christ's mission of love and service as the people of God. "The holy people of God shares also in Christ's prophetic office; it spreads abroad a living witness to Him, especially by means of a life of faith and charity and by offering to God a sacrifice of praise" (Lumen Gentium, no. 12). This mission and the grace we receive through Baptism challenge us to follow in Christ's footsteps to "to bring about glad tidings to the poor... proclaim liberty to captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to let the oppressed go free" (Luke 4:18).

Challenge: Read the short reflection, Baptism: Incorporated Into Christ's Body, Sent on Christ's Mission, and reflect on how you can live out your baptismal call to imitate Christ's mission in Luke 4:18. Learn more about how the Catholic Campaign for Human Development has been living out the call to mission for more than 50 years, including addressing housing discrimination by partnering with organizations that have long been fighting to reform and expand access to affordable housing.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 9

Each year the Catholic Campaign for Human Development awards the Cardinal Bernardin New Leadership Award to a Catholic young adult who works creatively to address the root causes of poverty in his or her community. Ivonn Rivera was the recipient of the 2023 Cardinal Bernardin Award New Leadership Award for her work empowering her local community in San Jose to become a safer environment from drugs, violence, and vandalism. How can you get involved in your parish or community's efforts to address poverty?

Challenge: Can you think of any young adults (aged 18-40) who demonstrate leadership in working to address the root causes of poverty in the U.S.? Nominate a young adult you know for this year's Cardinal Bernardin New Leadership Award. Also, share CCHD internship opportunities with young adult groups or campus ministries in your parish community for hands-on training and work with and on behalf of low-income persons in our communities.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 10

The Dignity of Work and the Rights of Workers is a theme of Catholic Social Teaching that is directly related to the migrant experience, especially here in the U.S. Organizations supported by CCHD seek to help migrants know their rights and create a just working environment where their life and dignity is upheld and respected.

Work is about much more than simply earning a living; it is a way of using our gifts to participate in God's creation and promote the common good. Unemployment, underemployment, and failure to uphold the rights of workers affront the dignity we have as human persons. Our faith reminds us that we should never take advantage of others and must always prioritize people over profit. This is why all workers have the right to be treated fairly, receive just wages, and have a healthy work environment. We must work to ensure that all persons' rights are respected.

Challenge: Watch this CST101 video and read this reflection on radical solidarity with working families from Archbishop Borys Gudziak, Chairman of the USCCB Committee on Domestic Justice and Human Development.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 11

The consequences of poverty are devastating in many ways. Today, on National Human Trafficking Awareness Day, we reflect on forced labor and human trafficking. Poverty renders many children, women, and men vulnerable to being trafficked. Victims are often exploited due to their financial circumstances, and coerced through job opportunities that keep them in financial debt for years to come.

The reality of forced labor and human trafficking is a symptom of a culture that places economic profit above the dignity of the human person. Pope Francis writes: “an economic system that puts profit above man” is the result of “a throw-away culture at work that considers humanity itself, human beings, as a consumer good, which can be used and then thrown away.”

Challenge: Find out about your slavery footprint and learn more about how your purchases can empower people experiencing poverty. In your family, school or parish, use the SHEPHERD Program Movie Guide to learn about the systemic problems that create the conditions for forced labor and trafficking. Stay up to date on the USCCB's anti-trafficking work here.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 12

Pope Francis has called the Church to a synodal process, one that invites all the People of God to walk together, side by side, along the same road towards renewal in the Spirit and the good of all people.

An essential part of this ongoing process is the active listening to those who have often been pushed to the margins of society, including those living in poverty and victims of injustice: “People who suffer the many different forms of poverty, exclusion and marginalization within our unequal societies also turn to the Church in search of love, listening and accompaniment. This listening allows the Church to understand the realities of poverty and marginalization, and to draw close in friendship to those who suffer. Crucially it also enables the Church to be evangelized by those who suffer. Listening to them allows the Church to understand their point of view and to place itself concretely at their side, and to be evangelized by them” (A Synodal Church in Mission, section 16).

Challenge: Prayerfully read and reflect on CCHD’s Synod report, *Walking in Solidarity with those on the Margins*, submitted as part of the Diocesan Stage of the 2021-2024 Synod. How will you continue to participate in the invitation to become a listening Church?

SATURDAY, JANUARY 13

The child poverty rate in the United States more than doubled from 2021 to 2022 – the largest year-to-year spike on record – resulting in an additional 5.2 million children living in poverty, according to the latest Census update. In 2021, Congress temporarily expanded the Child Tax Credit, allowing its full value to reach the poorest children. The expansion expired the following year and millions of children were thrust back into poverty.

Learn more about the U.S. bishops' support of the Child Tax Credit and why Congress must take action to strengthen the Child Tax Credit.

Challenge: Join our advocacy network to let elected officials hear the voice of the Catholic community in the United States. Sign up for action alerts and receive the latest updates on legislation affecting those in need.

SUNDAY, JANUARY 14

How we organize our society -- in economics and politics, in law and policy -- directly affects human dignity and the capacity of individuals to grow in community. The Church teaches that every person has a right and a duty to participate in society, seeking together the common good and well-being of all, especially the poor and vulnerable.

People in every nation enhance the social dimension of their lives by acting as committed and responsible citizens: “Responsible citizenship is a virtue, and participation in political life is a moral obligation” (Pope Francis, The Joy of the Gospel [Evangelii Gaudium], no. 220, quoting United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, Forming Consciences for Faithful Citizenship, Nov. 2007, no. 13).

Challenge: What are you doing in your family and community to encourage others to participate, especially in the work to address the systems and structures that keep people in poverty? Learn more about Civilize It: A Better Kind of Politics and pledge charity, clarity, and creativity to promote the common good.

MONDAY, JANUARY 15

Today is Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Day. Dr. King fought tirelessly to eliminate injustice and segregation from the minds and hearts of the American people. He understood that eliminating poverty is not simply a hand-out; it is restoring the respect that all persons deserve. Read more from Dr. King's 1967 speech "Where Do We Go From Here?"

Reflection: Learn about how Catholics are called to address the sin of racism and find out more about how for more than 50 years CCHD has worked for racial justice in all aspects of society like criminal justice reform, affordable housing, environmental justice, and more.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 16

Our faith calls us to care for God's creation as the adverse effects of global climate change devastate many poor communities that do not have the resources to protect themselves or adapt. The Laudato Si' Action Platform is a groundbreaking faith-driven and ecological initiative from the Vatican to engage the Catholic Church in a seven-year journey to global sustainability and spiritual conversion. To help the U.S. Catholic community engage with the Platform, the Catholic Climate Covenant and its 20+ U.S. Catholic partners have created a national campaign and website "We're all Part of God's Plan\(et\)". Our faith requires us to do our part to protect our brothers and sisters and care for creation.

Challenge: Read more about how the adverse effects of climate change impact those experiencing poverty and how CCHD supports groups working for environmental justice. What can you do at home and in your parish community to better care for God's creation?

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 17

The fastest-growing group of American youths are children of immigrants, who have poverty rates more than twice those of other children. In fact, more than 40 percent of children living in poverty are those of immigrants. Many immigrant parents face barriers to government support, in addition to experiencing earning inequality, language obstacles, and lack of program knowledge.

The Catholic Church tirelessly advocates on behalf of migrant children, seeks legislation that would provide greater protections for this population, and works to aid those with unmet needs. How is your local faith community supporting migrants and refugees in need?

Challenge: Read about Strangers No Longer (SNL), a CCHD-funded Catholic network in Michigan whose goal is to support immigrants and advocate for a comprehensive and humane immigration policy. SNL formed a regional committee called Youth in Action for Immigrants, which empowers local youth to advocate for immigrants in their schools and parishes.

POVERTY AWARENESS MONTH 2024

THURSDAY, JANUARY 18

Today begins the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, celebrated each year on January 18-25. The 2024 theme is "You shall love the Lord your God... and your neighbor as yourself" (Lk 10:27). The theme, taken from the first chapter of the Gospel of Luke, reflects the connection between love of God and love of neighbor with a particular concern for challenging the boundaries of who is considered "neighbor." How might we examine and extend our definition of "neighbor" to reflect God's call for charity, mercy, justice, and unity?

Challenge: Read and reflect on this example of a CCHD-funded group empowering people of faith and good will to build unity and create access to affordable housing. Think of Christians in your communities, your work, schools, friendships, and reflect on how you can promote unity in your life.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 19

The problem of poverty is very dynamic, and its solution is multi-faceted. The Two Feet of Love in Action describes two unique but complementary ways to respond to poverty in our communities. One "foot" is social justice – eliminating the root causes of poverty – and the second "foot" is charitable works – responding to the immediate needs of those who are vulnerable. Watch this video to learn more and reflect on the ways you can walk with two feet of love in action.

Action: Search for a local community organization working to end poverty and find out how you can get involved. Learn about the current policies that affect poverty in our nation.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 20

Our faith teaches us that we have a responsibility to work together to safeguard each person's rights, including working together for greater economic justice in the face of persistent poverty, growing income gaps, and increasing economic issues. More than 35 years ago, the U.S. bishops published Economic Justice for All: A Pastoral Letter on Catholic Social Teaching and the U.S. Economy. In the aftermath of the COVID-19 pandemic, this teaching is more important than ever. All of our economic life should recognize the fact that we all are God's children and members of one human family, called to exercise a clear priority for the poor and vulnerable among us.

Reflection: Read a Catholic Framework for Economic Life and reflect on what you can do to support economic practices that uphold the dignity of all life. Learn more about the call for economic justice and how you can support this important work through the Catholic Campaign for Human Development.

POVERTY AWARENESS MONTH 2024

SUNDAY, JANUARY 21

Venerable Fr. Augustus Tolton was the first African American to be ordained a priest for the United States. A former slave who was baptized and raised Catholic, Tolton studied formally in Rome and led the development and construction of St. Monica's Catholic Church, known as the black "National Parish Church" in the Archdiocese of Chicago in 1893. "Good Father Gus," as he was called by many, dedicated himself to ministering to his parishioners, many of whom were living in poverty, and empowered them with the Gospel message of peace and justice through adult religious education classes and catechism classes. Fr. Tolton's simple example of perseverance and faith in a time of adversity and difficulty is an incredible example for us and the lives we are called to live now.

Challenge: Learn more about Fr. Tolton and other inspiring holy men and women who worked courageously to address racism in their communities and say this prayer to address the sin of racism.

Today is the Day of Prayer for the Legal Protection of the Unborn. The U.S. Catholic bishops advocate for "radical solidarity" with pregnant women and their children, recognizing the important role that policies which support families play in protecting the child in the womb and after birth.

You can support mothers in need by advocating for an increase in funding for the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC). Estimates suggest that 600,000 mothers and children would be turned away when they seek aid under current funding.

Pray: You can participate in this day through prayer or through special events offered by your diocese to observe the anniversary of Roe v. Wade. Use this prayer to reflect on how you can work to promote the life and dignity of the human person, including those not yet born and those experiencing poverty and injustice.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 23

The CCHD Creating on the Margins Contest toolkit provides a framework and sample materials for dioceses, parishes, and schools to adapt and implement locally. By implementing a local contest, you can help middle school and high school-age youth to learn about poverty in the U.S. and reflect on its causes in light of their faith and the Church's work to address it, especially through the Catholic Campaign for Human Development (CCHD). Youth then create artwork in any medium (painting, song, video, PowerPoint, short story, poetry, drama, or photography), becoming educators themselves as they use their creativity to communicate what they have learned to others in their community.

The sample materials provided can be adapted locally without permission for non-profit, educational purposes.

Action: Learn more about the situation of poverty in your community. How can you get your local schools and parishes involved in the Creating on the Margins Contest?

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 24

Did you know that you could populate a city larger than New York City with all of America's food-insecure children? The effects of poverty are greatly varied, but many of them like homelessness, a lack of healthcare, and low wages, all are frequently a focus of public conversation. But several go largely undetected. One of these issues is food insecurity. With more than one in ten people in the U.S. being food insecure, you will find food insecurity in every community. Learn more about how you can take action to help address food insecurity and other challenges facing our brothers and sisters experiencing poverty.

Challenge: Take our Poverty Quiz and see what you have learned about poverty and the systems and structures that impact our communities. Then, discover a local CCHD-funded group in your area and get involved in the work to end the cycle of poverty.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 25

Many face barriers to breaking the cycle of poverty due to discrimination or racism. Read and reflect on the U.S. bishops' pastoral letter against racism, Open Wide Our Hearts: The Enduring Call to Love. We are called to confront the evil of racism and journey together toward the conversion of hearts, minds, and institutions. How is this letter calling you to conversion? What stereotypes do you have that distort your vision of members of your local and global community?

Challenge: Read about how one CCHD-funded group is working to address racial divisions in West Baltimore. Then, use this study guide and discern how you can address the racism in your community.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 26

Nearly one in four people in the United States with a disability live in poverty. Read about Living Hope: A Voice for the Vulnerable. CCHD provides funds to help Living Hope empower members of the disability community. They work to not only provide wheelchairs, safety, and community to people experiencing poverty and disability, but they also work to give them a voice and place in society.

Reflection: What gives you hope in God's mercy? How can you use this hope to serve others? How can you join local efforts to empower those living in poverty in your community? Learn more about our call to have a preferential option for the Poor and Vulnerable and reflect on how you can empower the poor and vulnerable in your community.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 27

Poverty does not strike all demographics equally. Nearly all of the roots of systemic poverty such as lack of access to food, affordable housing, and quality education disproportionately affect communities of color.

Homelessness and food accessibility have been a problem in many American communities for years, but they're especially prevalent in Los Angeles. In 2020, LA's homelessness report stated that within city limits, over 41,000 people live in streets, cars, and shelters - a 14% increase since 2019. Even more unsettling is that Black people only make up around 8% of LA County's total population, but account for 34% of its homeless population.

Reflection: Read more about how the Catholic Campaign for Human Development (CCHD) is working to address food inequality and homelessness. What does food insecurity and homelessness look like in your community? Are there ways you can get involved to address this dire problem?

SUNDAY, JANUARY 28

In Fratelli Tutti, Pope Francis invites all people of good will to live out a discipleship built on love that fosters universal fraternity and social friendship. Challenging us to work together to create a society based on solidarity, Fratelli Tutti provides a starting point for renewing our commitment to caring for our neighbor and a global society built on justice and the common good: "We have the space we need for co-responsibility in creating and putting into place new processes and changes. Let us take an active part in renewing and supporting our troubled societies. Today we have a great opportunity to express our innate sense of fraternity, to be Good Samaritans who bear the pain of other people's troubles rather than fomenting greater hatred and resentment. Like the chance traveler in the parable, we need only have a pure and simple desire to be a people, a community, constant and tireless in the effort to include, integrate and lift up the fallen" (no. 77).

Challenge: Use this six-part study guide for faith groups, families, and individuals to journey through Fratelli Tutti and read more about how CCHD promotes the culture of encounter Pope

POVERTY AWARENESS MONTH 2024

Francis calls for in *Fratelli Tutti*. How can you foster a solidarity that continually seeks justice in your community?

MONDAY, JANUARY 29

In the Eucharistic Liturgy, we are united with the Body of Christ on the altar, and in our brothers and sisters in the assembly. Pope Francis urges us to live out our faith in service to others: “Whenever we encounter a poor person, we cannot look away, for that would prevent us from encountering the face of the Lord Jesus... It is easy to delegate charity to others, yet the calling of every Christian is to become personally involved.” Read about how one parish in Arizona demonstrates this connection in their Sunday worship.

Reflection: Read Eucharist: Body of Christ, Broken for World. How does your participation in the Eucharistic liturgy open your eyes and heart to contemplate the needs of your brothers and sisters in poverty, and inspire you to respond?

TUESDAY, JANUARY 30

Formerly incarcerated people are not often set up to succeed as they reenter their communities. They may not have a support network, a job, or employable skills if they have been incarcerated since they were young adults. This combination often leads to high recidivism rates, which damages the individuals, their families and communities.

Restorative justice can help break the cycle of violence in our communities through a comprehensive response to crime that addresses the needs of victims and the community and those responsible for causing harm through healing, education, rehabilitation, and community support.

Reflection: Learn about how CCHD-funded J.U.S.T. Pensacola is advocating for a reformed criminal justice system in Florida, and how a New Jersey cardinal is supporting a local reentry program’s efforts to give formerly incarcerated people a second chance.

How can you show God’s love and mercy to those in need of healing and hope? Consider participating in your parish or diocese’s prison ministry or join a community organization working for restorative justice.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 31

As we conclude Poverty Awareness Month, let us pause for a moment and reflect with Pope Francis. In his statement for the Seventh World Day of the Poor, the Holy Father urges us to take to heart the call from the Book of Tobit: “Do not turn your face away from anyone who is poor” (Tob 4:7).

The poor are persons; they have faces, stories, hearts and souls. They are our brothers and sisters, with good points and bad, like all of us, and it is important to enter into a personal relation with each of them... In this house of ours, which is the world, everyone has a right to experience the light of charity; no one must be deprived of that light.

Keep the conversation about poverty going with your family, in your neighborhood, and in your parish by signing up to receive our newsletter JPHD Updates and other communications by the Department of Justice, Peace, and Human Development. Continue to learn more about Poverty in the United States and how you can work together with those experiencing poverty in your community by visiting PovertyUSA.org.

Reflection: What did you learn or reflect on during Poverty Awareness Month that was most impactful to you? How are you called to work with others to address poverty?
