Covid-19 Prayer of Solidarity

*For all who have contracted coronavirus,
We pray for care and healing.*

*For those who are particularly vulnerable,
We pray for safety and protection.*

*For all who experience fear or anxiety,
We pray for peace of mind and spirit.*

*For affected families who are facing difficult decisions between food on the table or public safety,
We pray for policies that recognize their plight.*

*For those who do not have adequate health insurance,
We pray that no family will face financial burdens alone.*

For those who are afraid to access care due to immigration status, we pray for recognition of the God-given dignity of all.

*For our brothers and sisters around the world,
We pray for shared solidarity.*

*For public officials and decisionmakers,
We pray for wisdom and guidance.*

Father, during this time may your Church be a sign of hope, comfort and love to all.

*Grant peace.
Grant comfort.
Grant healing.
Be with us, Lord.*

Amen.

Backgrounder

The COVID-19 pandemic revealed many disparities. For example: not all communities have equal access to healthcare, quality education, internet, workers' rights and benefits, and affordable housing. Lower-income communities, blacks, Hispanics, and Native Americans were much harder hit by the pandemic than others. Families already living on the edge were pushed into poverty and for those already in poverty, it became even more difficult to get by. Watch the Web of Poverty video at PovertyUSA.org and read the article links with each background issue below to learn more about some of the disparities that cause some to live on the margins.

The contest theme this year is “Rebuilding Together at the Margins.” As we seek to rebuild together after COVID-19, listening to the voices of those on the margins can lead to new models to overcome disparity. Community organizations that receive funding from the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) through CCHD (the Catholic Campaign for Human Development) work on the margins to ensure that everyone has the opportunity to thrive. Below, read about five issues and how CCHD-funded organizations are working to address them:

STORIES OF HOPE

Addressing Disparities Revealed
by COVID-19

Issue #1

Workers in many sectors (such as the agricultural, food service, manufacturing and other sectors) often have little recourse when their rights are violated.

CCHD Response: Low-wage workers and religious congregations who are part of Arise Chicago, an organization which receives funding from the Catholic Campaign for Human Development (CCHD), worked to recover $6.9 million in compensation that had been wrongly withheld from workers, many of them immigrants. They also won city and county ordinances to help prevent wage theft, and to ensure that workers were allowed to take paid sick days. Finally, they successfully advocated for a “Domestic Workers Bill of Rights” to guarantee fair and just treatment for persons who clean homes, work as nannies, or care for disabled and elderly persons.

Issue #2

Decades of racism have resulted in disparities in opportunity that still exist today. Historical disadvantages are still reflected in the present-day through disparities in access to healthcare, housing, education, economic opportunity, and clean air and water, as well as in the criminal justice system.

CCHD Response: In Baltimore, MD., students involved with United Workers led a successful effort to prevent the nation’s largest trash burning incinerator from being built in their neighborhood. Communities of color are disproportionately affected by environmental contamination in the U.S. In Dallas, TX, Dallas Area Interfaith (DAI) has moved forward the public conversation about the relationships between communities of color and the police. DAI also led the effort to introduce parish IDs, which bring immigrants out of the shadows and lead to greater trust and collaboration between police and community members.

Issue #3

Many communities do not have access to basic services such as healthcare or to grocery stores and healthy foods.

CCHD Response: In Philadelphia, PA., CCHD has supported the community-building work of Urban Tree Connection, which is transforming an entire neighborhood (three-quarter acre farm surrounded by 60 houses) from empty lots to productive gardens that provide meaningful jobs, where youth are employed to work the land and the harvest the bounty. In Minneapolis, MN, Appetite for Change brings together community members, organizations and businesses to advocate for food justice so that fresh, affordable and culturally significant foods can be available in all neighborhoods.

Issue #4

Kids in many low-income communities have not had access to quality education. Educational disparities have been especially apparent during the COVID-19 pandemic, causing some children to fall even further behind.

CCHD Response: Members of MICAH Memphis are asking tough but important questions during COVID-19, such as “Who can easily continue their education with wifi and devices and who cannot?” MICAH’s Education Equity Task Force seeks to ensure that every child has access to the quality education they deserve. Even before COVID-19, this task force was already working to address issues around poorly maintained schools; disproportionate consequences for students of color; insufficient resources for school nurses, counselors, and social workers; inadequate support for teachers and classrooms; and other issues that negatively affect educational quality and attendance among Shelby County Schools.

Issue #5

There is a severe shortage of affordable housing in our country, with 18.2 million households paying over 50% of their income on housing. This leaves little left over for other expenses such as food, childcare, or transportation—let alone saving for the future or responding to an emergency such as a lost job or surprise medical bill and makes many families vulnerable to falling into poverty.

CCHD Response: Recognizing the severe shortage of affordable housing in their area, Faith and Action for Strength Together (FAST), a CCHD-funded organization in St. Petersburg, FL, put pressure on local elected officials and won a housing trust fund that has created 1,469 affordable housing units to date.

Reflect and Share

Bible

“See, I am doing something new!” Isaiah 43:19

If you could ask Jesus to change one problem in the world today, which problem would you pick?

Catechism of the Catholic Church

The Church's social teaching is a rich treasure of wisdom about building a just society and living lives of holiness amidst the challenges of modern society. The depth and richness of this tradition is illustrated in the Catechism:

1928. Society ensures social justice when it provides the conditions that allow associations or individuals to obtain what is their due, according to their nature and their vocation. Social justice is linked to the common good and the exercise of authority.

Visit this page to learn about the seven themes of Catholic Social Teaching (CST).

- 1 Life and Dignity of the Human Person
- 2 Call to Family Community and Participation
- 3 Option for the Poor and Vulnerable
- 4 Rights and Responsibilities
- 5 Solidarity
- 6 Care for God's Creation
- 7 The Dignity of Work and the Rights of Workers

Reflect about the work of a CCHD community group that you learned about earlier. Which theme of CST did that group live out?

From Pope Francis' Desk

"If we want to be true disciples of Jesus, we are called to become, united to Him, instruments of his merciful love, overcoming every kind of marginalization."

-Angelus Address, St. Peter's Square, February 15, 2015

Create a Work of Art and Submit it!

Now that you have learned about the many disparities that the Covid-19 pandemic revealed and how the Church is responding, make a creative work exploring the theme “Rebuilding Together in the Margins.” Examples of creative works eligible for the contest include: paintings, poems, videos, photos, PowerPoint presentations, drawings, dramas, sculptures, stories, and songs.**

Next fill out the official entry form on the following pages, including responding to the four short essay questions. Your contest entry will be assessed by both your essay responses and your creative work. Please note that the signature of a parent or guardian is required.

Then contact the contest coordinator in your diocese to submit your entry. This may be the diocesan CCHD representative or your diocesan contact for religious education, youth ministry, or Catholic education. Dioceses will select a winner for each age category and submit it to the national contest.

To find your CCHD diocesan director, visit USCCB.org/CCHD and click "Diocesan Directors" in the top right of the menu.

Please note that the contest’s national deadline is March 31, 2021 but the local deadlines will be earlier. So be sure to connect with your diocesan contact to find out details about the submission process for your local contest.

If you learn that your diocese is not participating in the contest, you can still participate. Contact the CCHD national office at mmorales@usccb.org. Be sure to describe details of any communication you have already had with the diocese.

**NOTE: Anyone whose voice or image is recorded in an audiovisual submission must also submit a copy of the waiver form included in the following pages. Also, entries that feature ANY music, photos or videos created by another person MUST include proof of permission to use it. This includes but is not limited to: magazine pictures, songs, any person featured in ANY way in a video or picture, music or stock images from the internet.
