

WEEK 2

Solidarity

In his Urbi et Orbi message on Easter Sunday, Pope Leo XIV reflected that “Christ’s resurrection is the beginning of a new humanity... where all recognize one another as brothers and sisters, children of the same Father who is Love, Life, and Light.” This Easter season, the Holy Father encourages us to not become indifferent to violence, war, and the suffering of our brothers and sisters, but rather to “make heard the cry for peace that springs from our hearts!”

“[Solidarity] is not a feeling of vague compassion or shallow distress at the misfortunes of so many people, both near and far. On the contrary, it is a firm and persevering determination to commit oneself to the common good; that is to say, to the good of all and of each individual, because we are all really responsible for all.”

Saint John Paul II, Sollicitudo Rei Socialis, no. 38

Sacred Scripture

“If [one] part suffers, all the parts suffer with it; if one part is honored, all the parts share its joy.”

1 Corinthians 12:26

Sacred Tradition

“The principle of solidarity, also articulated in terms of ‘friendship’ or ‘social charity,’ is a direct demand of human and Christian brotherhood.”

Catechism of the Catholic Church, no. 1939

Catholic Social Teaching in Action

Catholic Relief Services offers opportunities for Catholics to support policies that impact vulnerable communities around the world.

U.S. Catholics are also invited to take up the call to be “salt of the earth” and “light of the world” at uscbb.org/csl with materials that can help faith communities be living examples of solidarity in action.
