A photograph of a Catholic Mass taking place in a large, historic cathedral. A priest, wearing a green stole over a white cassock, stands at the altar, holding up a host (Eucharist) with both hands. He is surrounded by several other clergy members, also in white cassocks and green stoles, who are standing behind the altar. The altar is covered with a white cloth and has a small floral arrangement on it. In the background, there is a large, circular stained-glass window (rose window) and several arched windows. The architecture is Gothic, with high vaulted ceilings and stone columns.
